ENTREPRENEUR IN RESIDENCE

Each member is assigned an experienced EiR who seeks fully to understand your business and connect you into the resources available from our hubs, our mentor and talent pools, our academics, our research base and from the wider entrepreneurial ecosystem. Your EiR will work with you to create your bespoke virtual accelerator programme.

EiRs may also support with mentoring, access to finance, and business planning. Your EiR is the first point of contact for advice and support and will recommend the optimum mix of resources to help your business succeed and prosper.

VIRTUAL BOARD & MENTORS

Virtual Boards are facilitated and managed via our new state-of-the-art Mentor Portal to create an optimum mix of mentors, advisers and academics.

Mentors are experienced founders and business professionals who provide their expertise on a pro bono basis. Your EiR will chair your Virtual Board and adjust the mix of expert mentors to match your needs as your business accelerates.

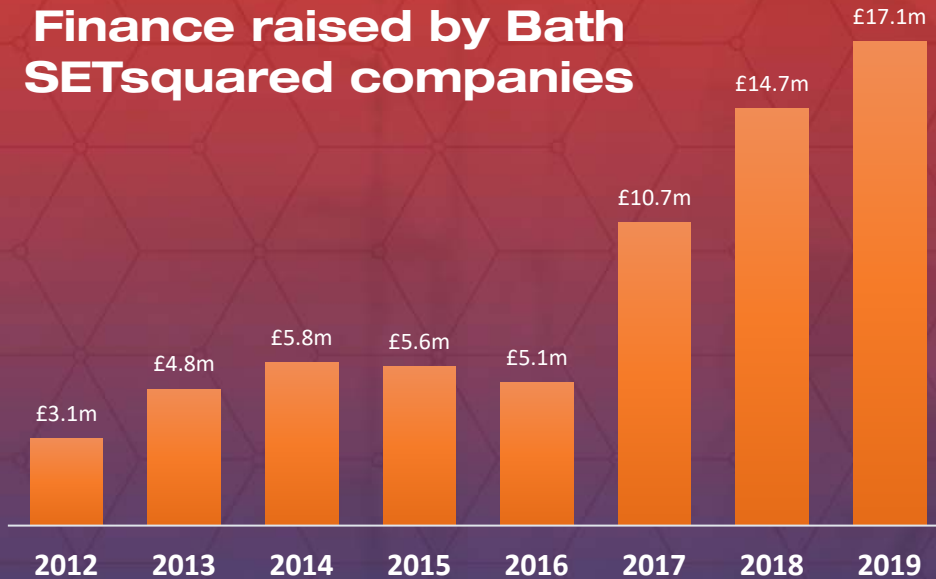

A mentor will usually act as a coach and facilitator rather than a decision taker, although, if the relationship works well, ventures may want to develop the mentor's role into a more formal management, board or advisory position.
